

"JUNIOR B/C" CAMPS

Summer of '92 "Junior" Camps

Indiana

Georgia

Pennsylvania

In 1985, B/C introduced its first-ever "Junior" Camps in Indiana and Georgia. This unique program for high-caliber younger players met with instant success — more than 1,600 freshmen, sophomores and juniors-to-be have received cram courses in instruction and competition on a national basis.

This summer we will conduct our eighth annual "Junior B/C" sessions at three locations: July 10-14 in Indiana; July 14-18 in Georgia; and July 21-25 in Pennsylvania.

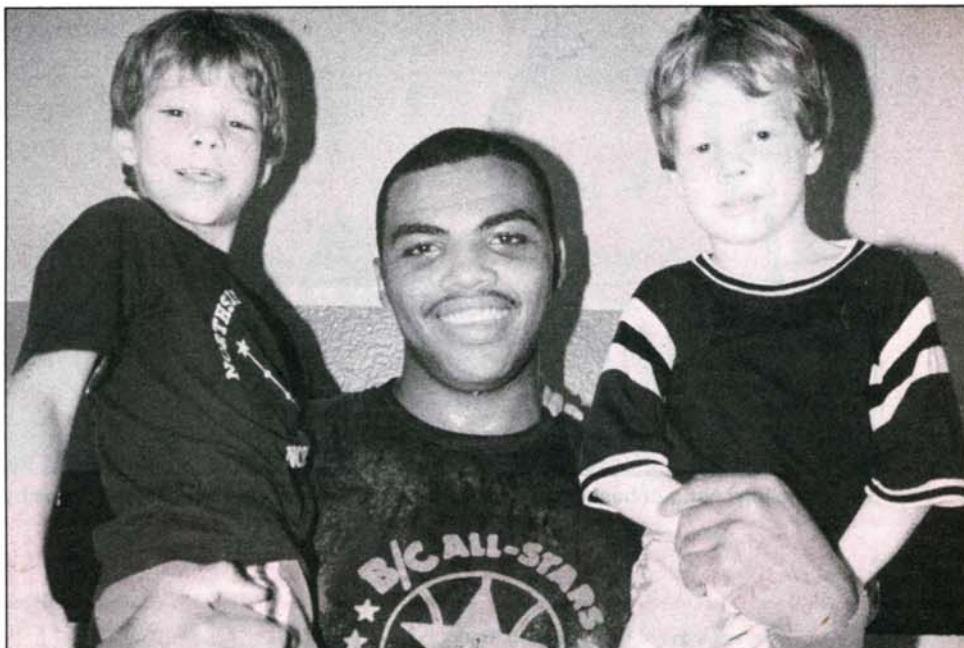

Our "Junior B/C" format is similar to regular B/C except for added emphasis on fundamentals (team practice, station drills). Each camper plays at least 3 games daily.

Previous "Junior B/C" sessions have been blessed with abundant talent as well as size. Among the All-American graduates are Tennessee's 6-6 junior guard Allan Houston, 1991 SEC Tournament MVP and 1992 All-American, and Indiana's All-Big Ten center 6-9 Eric Anderson.

"Junior B/C's" latest phenom — 6-3 Terrence Rencher, who's averaged 19 ppg as a Texas freshman All-American after his '89 B/C-Pennsylvania debut.

This summer we will welcome 150 players to each of our three "Junior" weeks. A staff of 42 coaches, representing 14 states, offers the ultimate in instruction (see box at right). For additional information.

Our "Junior" camps are a tremendous opportunity for developing prospects to share in the B/C experience — and prepare for future B/C All-Stars participation!

76ers' 260-pound behemoth Charles Barkley — MVP of the NBA's 1991 All-Star Game — proves popular with the kids at B/C-Georgia.
